

Privacy Policy

The University Health Network Microarray Centre (UHNMAC) is committed to protecting the privacy of the personal information of its Clients (Researchers, Microarray Users, and Symposium Delegates). The UHNMAC has taken the necessary actions to ensure that information in any format (paper or electronic) is protected. The UHNMAC recognises, and adheres to, the UHN Corporate Privacy Policy.

Information collected for the purposes of registering for the Functional Genomics: Present and Future symposium is used to identify delegates and send them any relevant information pertaining to the symposium. Information will be sent to the e-mail address or mailing address provided. Following the Functional Genomics: Present and Future symposium, professional delegate information (work e-mail address and mailing address of Company) will be retained in our files but not shared with other organisations.

The UHNMAC does not trade, rent or sell any personal information to third parties. The UHNMAC does not share information about our clients (including symposium attendees) without their written consent. For the purposes of the Functional Genomics: Present and Future symposium, the registration form asks delegates if they wish to share their name and mailing information (including e-mail address and Company mailing address) with sponsors that will be present at the symposium for marketing purposes. Please check the appropriate box on the registration form.

To change or modify any personal information previously provided to the UHNMAC, please contact the UHNMAC Administrator, Susan Alexander, TMDT, 101 College Street, Room 9-301, Toronto, ON M5G 1L7, Canada, 416-581-7623, or by email at alexande@uhnresearch.ca.

If you have any questions or concerns about the privacy of information collected by the UHNMAC, please contact Neil Winegarden, Head of Operations at UHNMAC (winegard@uhnresearch.ca) or Susan Alexander, UHNMAC Administrator (alexande@uhnresearch.ca).
